

Climate Modelling at the University of Victoria

The UVic Earth System Climate Model is comprised of several component models

All components exchange heat and moisture without flux adjustments.